CRICKET. ROYAL ENGINEERS v. SHROPSHIRE LIGHT INFANTRY.

This match took place on the 10th inst. on the R.E. Ground at Happy Valley, resulting in a victory for the R.E's on the first innings by THE CHINA AND MANILA STEAM-26 runs. The match was hastily arranged at less than twenty four hour's notice; consequently neither team was at its full strength, the Regiment especially being minus several of its best men The ground seemed to be in good trim for the bowlers, and no big scores were made. Jeffkins was the only man who made a stand for the R.E's, which he did in a well played innings of 58. The fast underhand bowling of Liddle was quite new to the Sappers and was very effective Liddle for the Regiment played a careful innings and was neatly cought at the wicket by Walsh whose wicket keeping, by the way was unusually smart, as not a single "bye" was obtained, in either innings, by the Regiment. The following is the score :-SHROPSHIRE L.I. First Ingings. Sergt. Mijor Liddle, c Walshe, b SECOND INNINGS. Corpl. Miles, b Railton Corpl. str. Chiyucn.

" After this I never looked behind me." This is a very common expression. What do people mean by it?, Lot's wife looked bekind her and was changed into a pillar of salt. A locomotive driver in America looked behind him one day last summer and so didn't see an open drawbridge in front of him. Hence a wreck and great less of life. A man in London failed to look behind him and was run down by a hansom. What shall we do as a rule? Look behind us

We introduce a man who says he never looked behind him-after a certain time. How are we to take hismeaning? Why, by letting himexplainit. He goes on to say that in one day in Feb. reary, 1590, he was suddenly seized with dizziness and pain in hit head. Like all healthy people, under similar circumstances, he didn't know what to make of it. He says he felt strange and queer, he shivered as though the weather had suddenly turned cold, and then flushed with the heat as though it had turned hot again. What siled him ? His doctor said he was attacked with influenza. and ordered him to bed. He went to bed. A few. days later the fever left him, but the illness did not. It morely assumed another form. Historgue looked like a piece of brown leather, and his skin and the whites of his eyes became yellow, like old parchment. We mustall est to live, but when this man tried to eat. The food went against him, and after he had swallowed it by main force, it caused such pain in the chest, side, and atomach that he wished he had let it alone. Then his heart began to palpitate, and he says he felt low. languid, and tired. He had what he calls a rinking feeling at the pit of the stomach and a craving which nothing satisfied, Being unable to take any but liquid food be per chest, grew so weak that he was barely able to walk, Then his heart troubled him once more, and, to

quotable own words, "As I sat in my chair I_i could hear my heart thumping as if somebody was pounding me on the back." This showed that the heart had too much work on hand and was struggling under it like a horse trying to carry two men. "I got very little sleep at night," he says, "and would lie awake for hours tossing about on the bed." This sort of thing is very wearing, and we are not surprised to learn that he lost flesh until little was left of him but skin and bone. chooks," he says, "sunk in unbil they were almost drawn together, and people shook their heads and predicted, that my time in this world was nearly up. Still I had all confidence in my physician and kept on taking his modicine. From first to last I took some forty or fifty bottles of it (of all kinds) without benefit. " Pinally one day the doctor sounded my lungs and asked me if any of our family had died of consumption. He said that the heart palpitation was caused by dyspepsis. Then he said I had better take further advice; he could do no more for me. This was after nine months of his treatment. I gave up all hopes of getting better. and, indeed, no one expected me'to. "It was now winter again, December, 1890 One day I found a little book or pamphlet in the house, that I had never soon before. It was about a medicine called Mother Seigel's Syrup. and lescribed a case like mine having been pured by it. Without going into all my hopes and fears on the point, it is enough to say that I get a bottle from Mr. Kirkman, Chemist, Ellerby Lane. I took the contents of that bottle and cortainly felt a little botter. I took a second and hogan to eat solid food, which agreed with me. " After this I never looked behind me, though my recovery was a work of time, for I was very much reduced. I stuck to the medicine, and with good reason, and at last got back to my work, strong and well, and have remained so ever since. When I went back to the works the foreman and others gathered round me and I am a cloth presser by trade and have worked at Mesers. Hepworth & Sons, Clay Pit Laue for four years." Harvey Askew, 2, Back Timber Place, Ellerby Lane, Leeds. The doctor was right in saving that the apparent heart trouble in Mr. Askew's case arose from desponsia, for dyspensia was his only ailment. And if he had used Mother Seigel's, Syrap in February, 1890, he would have had no FIRE P. & O. S. N. Co.'s Steamship tale to tell, for be would have been all right directly.
